

Preferred Lender Arrangements and Lists

Calvary Bible College and Theological Seminary has not entered into any preferred lender arrangements and does not have a preferred lender list. Students and borrowers are free to choose any lender they prefer. Options for private or alternative loans may include banks, credit unions or other financial institutions.

Calvary strongly encourages borrowers to research and seriously consider the costs of borrowing and weigh all of their options. Before borrowing money from private or alternative loans, borrowers should first explore and consider options that may be available to them under the Title IV program, such as Grants, Direct Student Loans, and Parent, or Grad Plus Loans. These typically have more favorable interest rates and repayment terms, than private or alternative sources.
