**About This Class: This is a blended class, meaning that both campus and online students take this class together. Campus students attend the classes in person, online students attend the classes via the online classroom. All interaction and assignments for campus and online students are done in the online classroom.*

**About Changes to this Syllabus: The instructor reserves the right to make changes to this syllabus at any time during the course, but any changes made will only be done after clearly communicating the need for the change and the specific change to be made via in-class announcement and Canvas announcement.*

I. DESCRIPTION

American Literature I engages the student with reading, analyzing, and interpreting genres of American literature from the beginnings to the end of the American Civil War in 1865. Literary works include fiction, poetry, drama, and novel. This course includes narratives from ethnically diverse authors. Essay responses represent literary analysis of the readings. No prior literature courses are required. (Prerequisites: EN212, EN213, or EN214). (* Interdisciplinary Bible Course)

II. OBJECTIVES

A. General competencies to be achieved. You will:

1. Improve critical reading skills through critical analysis of literary texts (PLO 1; Assignments A–D).
2. Participate effectively in group discussions with emphasis on careful listening, critical thinking, and appropriate response (PLO 1, 3; Assignment A).
3. Develop the ability to research and write a literary essay (PLO 1–4; Assignments A–D).
4. Identify the various cultural, linguistic, and sociological characteristics as presented in the literary works (PLO 1; Assignments A–D).
5. Evaluate individual literary works according to the Biblical worldview (PLO 1, 3; Assignments A–D).

B. Specific competencies to be achieved. You will be able to:

1. Carefully read and analyze literary works from American literature from the nation's beginnings to the end of the Civil War Period (PLO 1; Assignment A–D).
2. Apply the literary elements to literary works in discussion and research (PLO 1; Assignments A–D).
3. Compare and contrast the Biblical worldview with that of the authors studied (PLO 3; Assignments A–D).

4. Use literary research tools to write a literary essay (PLO 1–4; Assignment D).

III. REQUIRED MATERIALS

A. Required Textbooks

- The Bible is a required textbook in every course at Calvary University. To facilitate academic level study, students are required to use for assignments and research an English translation or version of the Bible based on formal equivalence (meaning that the translation is generally word-for-word from the original languages), including any of the following: New American Standard (NASB), English Standard Version (ESV), New King James (NKJV), or King James (KJV). Other translations and versions based on dynamic equivalence (paraphrases, and thought-for-thought translations like NLT and NIV) may be used as supplemental sources. Please ask the professor if you have questions about a particular translation or version.

B. Suggested Resources

- MLA Handbook, 8th Edition. ISBN 978-1603292627. $14.40

IV. REQUIREMENTS

- A. Attendance: Students are required to attend the class section for which they enroll: online students may attend via livestream or by watching the recorded lecture; in-class students must attend in class. In-class students may not choose to attend online without approval of the instructor.

Attendance is taken for all in-class and livestream students.

Online students who attend asynchronously are required to submit all in-class activities on Canvas in the "Participation Activities Week X" assignment prior to the next class period. Late Participation Activities are counted as absences.

Students with more than two absences will be dropped from the course.

- B. Discussion Board: The professor will assign one discussion question in Canvas each week. Responses must be a minimum of 500 words, be clearly organized, and be well-supported by notes, quotes from the text, or outside research. Students must also engage with their peers in meaningful discussion after posting their initial response.

- C. Reading Assignments and Journals: This course is reading-intensive. Reading assignments are assigned from the required textbook (see below). Students may not substitute any kind of Cliff Notes, E-Notes, or online summaries of any kind. Students will certify that they have completed reading in Canvas. Students will also reflect on their assigned reading in a weekly reading journal (minimum of 100 words).

D. Novel Research Questions: Students will read the novel The Scarlet Letter and answer research questions posted in Canvas. Students are strongly encouraged to start this project as soon as possible. Students may get a copy of the novel at a library or (optionally) buy it. In addition to answering the research questions, students will certify they have read the book on Canvas.

E. Literary Essay: In a 7–10 page essay, argue a particular thesis about a literary work discussed in this course. Example topics include:

- How does “Young Goodman Brown” present the theme of despair? What techniques does Hawthorne use to communicate this theme to the reader?
- How does Emily Dickinson use theme, imagery, and symbolism to communicate truth?
- What worldviews are presented through selections in the anthology?
- In a comparative analysis, what characteristics are clearly recognized in two works?

Five outside resources must be included in the essay, and quotes from the primary short stories studied are expected. See Canvas for additional details.

F. Other Assignment Policies

1. Style Guide: All class papers must follow the MLA style according to the MLA Handbook, 8th edition.
2. Plagiarism is defined as copying any part of a book or paper without identifying the author. This also includes taking another person’s ideas and presenting them as your own.
3. Other forms of cheating include copying another student’s work, allowing a student to do your work, using notes instead of reading the literary works, basing your research essay on another essay, bringing cheat sheets or written information to a quiz or an exam, and working collaboratively with another student on individual assignments. This also includes handing in one essay for assignments given in two different courses to reduce the amount of student work. Please check with the professor if you have concerns or doubts about the academic approach you plan to take for an assignment.
4. Late work: -5% from the final grade per day late.
5. Originality: Students may not hand in one paper for two different courses—even if the paper has been altered in some way. Students may not hand in a paper that was written for another class in previous courses. All work must be completely new and written solely by the student.
6. Absences: Students are responsible for making up missed coursework. Watch the recorded class video to find out what was covered.
