Credit:	3 Semester Hours
Semester:	Spring 2023 (Cycle 4)
Location/Time:	E ED 120 Mondays and Wednesdays 9:30 – 10:50am
Instructor:	Becca Howell, rebecca.howell@calvary.edu

**About This Class: This course is offered in two formats: in-person and online. Students registered for in-person attend the classes in person, online students attend the classes via the online classroom. For both in-person and online students, assignments and interaction outside of the class period are done in the learning management system.*

**About Changes to this Syllabus: The instructor reserves the right to make changes to this syllabus at any time during the course, but any changes made will only be done after clearly communicating the need for the change and the specific change to be made via in-class announcement and Canvas announcement.*

I. DESCRIPTION

Creative Writing: Poetry introduces students to the elements of poetry, especially image, character, setting, structure, and voice. Students will read and discuss short poetry and practice creative writing skills in journal entries, from which they will develop into drafts. Rough drafts are critiqued in a workshop setting. The course culminates with the development of a polished portfolio. This course may be repeated once for credit. (Prerequisite: EN218)

II. OBJECTIVES

A. General competencies to be achieved. You will:

1. Understand and apply poetic elements and conventions to written work. (PLO 1, 2; Assignments A–C).
2. Analyze elements and conventions of poetry in literary works (PLO 1, 3; Assignment B–D).
3. Demonstrate understanding of workshop skills (PLO 1–4; Assignment D).
4. Produce a polished portfolio of short stories that demonstrates understanding of short story elements and conventions (PLO 1–4; Assignment E).

B. Specific competencies to be achieved. You will be able to:

1. Apply advanced knowledge literary elements in poetry in your own writing (PLO 1, 2, 4; Assignments A–E).
2. Use journaling to get ideas for creative writing projects and develop creative writing skills (PLO 1–4; Assignment A–C).
3. Review peer creative writing in a professional manner (PLO 2, 3; Assignment D).
4. Revise, edit, and proofread work to produce a polished portfolio (PLO 1–4; Assignment E).

III. REQUIRED MATERIALS

A. Required Textbooks

- The Bible is a required textbook in every course at Calvary University. To facilitate academic level study, students are required to use for assignments and research an English translation or version of the Bible based on formal equivalence (meaning that the translation is generally word-for-word from the original languages), including any of the following: New American Standard (NASB), English Standard Version (ESV), New King James (NKJV), or King James (KJV). Other translations and versions based on dynamic equivalence (paraphrases, and thought-for-thought translations like NLT and NIV) may be used as supplemental sources. Please ask the professor if you have questions about a particular translation or version.
- Burroway, Janet. 2010. Imaginative Writing: The Elements of Craft (4th Edition). Pearson. ISBN: 978-0134053240. Price: $51.97 (used) or $63.32 (new). Some used copies can be found for even cheaper.

IV. REQUIREMENTS

A. Reading Assignments

1. Readings are assigned weekly (see Calendar below).
2. Students will demonstrate an understanding of each reading assignment by answering prompts provided in Canvas.

B. Participation

1. During each class, the professor will assign activities that must be completed by all students (in-class and online). These activities may be writing exercises, notes, discussion board questions, etc.
2. Students will follow instructions to complete the activities. For example, "Write about XXXX and submit it on Canvas" or "Discuss XXXX on the Canvas Discussion Board."

C. Writing Journal

1. Students will keep a creative writing journal, used solely for this class, in which they will take notes, jot down ideas, brainstorm, and experiment with various creative writing elements and forms. Students are expected to spend at least 10 minutes a day, 5 days each week journaling.
2. This daily habit will generate a library of poem ideas that students will develop into drafts.
3. Students will demonstrate completion of journal activities in their final Reflection Letter in the final portfolio (see E. Portfolio below).

D. Draft Workshops

1. Workshops are a chance to get peer feedback on drafts in progress. Six workshops will take place over the course of the cycle. Each workshop requires both a submission of a draft and participation in giving feedback. Students will submit 6 poems (see Canvas for details).
2. Drafts are uploaded on the Canvas Discussion Board. Both online and in-class students will then review each student's draft and provide feedback based on the Discussion Board's instructions (see Canvas).

E. Portfolio

1. The Portfolio contains three polished pieces that demonstrate the sub-genres covered in class. Students may select any of the drafts they submitted to workshop for inclusion in the portfolio (see Canvas for specific requirements of sub-genres).
2. Poems included in the portfolio must have gone through a workshop and been revised. Working with a tutor in the Clark Academic Center will add another layer of polish to the story but does not count as going through the workshop. Drafts that have not been revised will be given 0 points. Meaningful revision must have taken place.
3. Along with each portfolio piece, students will include a self-review that assesses their work (see Canvas).
4. After the portfolio pieces have been selected and reviewed, students will write a reflection letter that details how their writing has changed over the course of the semester (see Canvas for details).
5. The portfolio is submitted on Canvas like all other assignments.
6. Students will present their portfolio during the last week of class. All students will submit a video recording of their presentation. These presentations will be handled as if students were pitching to an editorial board. Details for this assignment may be found in Canvas.
