III. REQUIREMENTS

Note: Specific instructions for each assignment are posted in Canvas.

A. Read Textbooks and write reviews.

1. Read the course textbook and submit a critical review of the book.
2. The review should identify the strengths, weaknesses, limitations, and usefulness of the book for a church leader and written as if it were to be published in a theological journal.

B. Study the Pastoral Epistles & other pertinent Scriptures and organize observations into an index.

1. Study each Pastoral Epistle and other pertinent passages to discover the locations of Scriptural advice about the ministry-related topics of the course.
2. Organize the findings from this study into an index for future use.

C. Write Position Papers.

1. The student will submit 5 papers (i.e., 5 pages each – 25 pages total) presenting his personal understanding and conviction in the following aspects of church ministry:
 - a. A Biblical Theology of the Local Church/Ministry – What it is to be and do.
 - b. A Biblical Theology of Local Church/Ministry Leadership – Who they are to be, what they are to do, and what qualifies them for their roles.
 - c. A Biblical Theology of Discipleship in the Local Church/Ministry – Who? What? How? When? Why? How much will it cost?
 - d. A Biblical Theology of Relationships and Conflict Resolution in the Local Church/Ministry – Levels of conflict; levels of accountability; levels of response.
 - e. A Biblical Theology of Local Church/Ministry Transformation – Why local churches/ministries get off track and what can be done to bring them back to vital ministry.

2. The purpose of these papers is to demonstrate an in-depth study of the Scriptures on these significant ministry-related topics as well as interaction with the textbooks and other related materials in order to formulate these personal positions. While the intent is not to critically analyze alternate viewpoints, it is to demonstrate informed decisions in light of the possible alternatives.
3. Include appropriate supporting scripture references and source material recognition, but keep in mind the need to be concise and the goal of presenting one's personal understanding of God's will on these issues. (Note: These papers are foundational studies the student will come back to throughout his years of ministry to guide his thinking and ministry decisions.)

D. Study spiritual gifts and present conclusions in a research essay.

1. Study the biblical evidence concerning spiritual gifts (i.e., do personal study of the textual evidence and do research of theological conclusions of others concerning this topic).
2. Present findings and conclusions in a paper which seeks to identify the nature of spiritual gifts, the nature of each gift listed in scripture, and whether or not some, all, or none of the gifts are available for ministry today.
3. This paper will be at least fifteen (15) pages.

E. Interview Ministry Leaders and make summary observations.

1. Interview three (3) experienced ministry leaders (i.e., at least five years in one ministry position, but not necessarily their current one) concerning the maturation of their thinking about the biblical evidence concerning ministry and its practical application in the specific ministry setting.
2. After all of the interviews, submit a three (3) page paper interacting with the interview responses and indicating observations learned about the nature of the interplay between theological conclusions made in academia and the daily realities of ministry. (Note: Do NOT merely present a transcript of the interview. Instead, analyze the responses and synthesize the observations into key principles for ministry.)

F. Develop a Personal Leadership Plan.

1. Submit a ten- (10) page paper describing the student's Personal Leadership Plan reflecting the student's understanding of God's call upon his/her life to ministry leadership.
2. Included, at the least, should be statements concerning the following:
 - a. An understanding of God's leading / calling into ministry (when, how, what kind of ministry).
 - b. An understanding of the spiritual gifts God has bestowed and how those gifts will influence leadership in ministry.
 - c. An understanding of the God's sovereign work (e.g. life context and experiences God has allowed to shape them to become the person they are) that has equipped them for ministry.
 - d. An understanding of areas of needed personal growth (e.g., relationally, emotionally, spiritually, administratively, theologically, practically, etc.) and a brief outline of the steps to be taken to effect this needed change.

3. This paper is not a research paper. Rather, it is a very biographical reflection of the student's understandings of God's preparation for the specific ministry God would want him/her to pursue upon graduation)

IV. METHODS

A. Presentation:

1. In-class methods: lecture, discussion, presentation, and evaluation.

About Class Attendance: Research consistently demonstrates that class attendance and active participation correlate to higher performance on course assessments.

About Classroom Use of Media:

-Computing devices are permitted during the lecture and class discussion sessions for the sole purpose of taking notes. Use of these devices to access the Internet, make telephone calls or video calls, text messaging, updating social network services, etc. is not allowed, let alone very distracting to other students.

-Cellphones / smartphones may only be used in an emergency, and in those situations the student may take the call but must leave the room and not return until the next break out of courtesy to fellow classmates.

About Note Taking: Students are expected to take notes during each class. Significant peer reviewed studies continue to demonstrate that notes taken by hand are understood better and remembered longer than those taken with a computer. Computer use which is a distraction to others (i.e., noise, blocking the screen, displaying non-class related material, etc.) is not allowed.

2. Out-of-class methods: observation, evaluation, and sermon preparation.

About written assignments: Unless directed otherwise, all written assignments must follow the Turabian style according to A Manual for Writers of Research Papers, Theses, and Dissertations, 8th edition and the Calvary Style Guide, 2019 update.

B. Grading:

About Plagiarism: Plagiarism is defined as copying any content without identifying the source. This also includes taking another person's or AI entity's ideas or constructs and presenting them as your own. The use of AI generated content in student work is prohibited (even if cited) as it does not represent original work created by the student and is an unreliable aggregate of ideas from other sources. Plagiarism of any kind will not be tolerated. Any assignment that includes plagiarism will receive a zero (0) grade. (Note: AI detection software will be used to verify plagiarism.)

About course grade: See the grading scale in the University Catalog for specific grading scale that will be used for final course grade.
